

Ken Taylor

President, the International Cyber Security Protection Alliance

Ken is currently the President of the International Cyber Security Protection Alliance and is recognized as a global Cyber Security leader, advising G5 government agencies, Global 500 Corporations, etc.

Ken sits on numerous boards within the cybersecurity / IOT community and is a Fellow of the New Westminster College in British Columbia.

Ken served proudly in the Canadian Armed forces (Special Service Forces - 2 Commando, PPCLI) for over 12 years in both peace and wartime operations throughout the world and has deep ties within the Intelligence and Special Forces community.

Ken has an engineering background in telecommunications and computer networking, as well as a Masters degree in Business Administration (finance / leadership) from Royal Roads University in Victoria, B.C.